

Stand-up Comedy Script: “The Real-Life Logic of Tom & Jerry”

[Walks up on stage like a detective who’s seen things...]

You ever watch Tom & Jerry... and think, “Bro, this isn’t a cartoon. This is a documentary on violence with jazz music in the background!”

I was watching Tom & Jerry the other day — and I realized... Jerry the mouse? That guy’s not a rodent. He’s a trained ninja who’s also petty as hell.

Like Jerry doesn’t just escape Tom... no, no. He ruins his whole life first.

[Physical Act-Out Begins — mimicking Jerry’s walk]

Jerry walks like he pays rent in that house. Full confidence. Chest out. Tail swinging. Like, “Yeah I’m 4 inches tall but I own this mansion.”

And Tom? Bro... Tom is me during exams. Confused, desperate, and getting slapped by life every 5 minutes.

[Act out Tom sneaking up on Jerry — slowly tiptoeing... and BOOM!]

Every episode is like:

Tom: “Shhh... I got him this time...”

Life: “Surprise exam!”

[CRASH! Falls off table, lands in cake, explodes, and somehow ends up wearing grandma’s bra.]

How?! How did it escalate that fast?! He was holding a spoon 2 seconds ago!!

[Relatable punchline]

It’s like school fights. Ever seen two students argue?

First minute: “Bro, I’ll punch you.”

Next minute: One guy’s shirt is on fire, principal’s wig is on the fan, and someone’s crying holding a geometry box like it’s a weapon!

[Mimicking Jerry again — dancing with cheese]

And Jerry? Jerry's there like, "Hmm, should I eat this cheese... or destroy Tom's soul first?"

Like bro, just eat and leave!

But nooo... he sets up traps. Like he's Home Alone-ing Tom every day.

[Pretending to be Tom in a trap — tongue out, hair smoking]

Tom steps on ONE rake and suddenly he's in a Looney Tunes death scene.

Hair's on fire. Eyes spinning. Tail tied in a knot.

Meanwhile Jerry's sipping tea with a smirk like, "You good, bro?"

[Relatable adult-life moment]

Honestly, watching Tom is like watching me try to fix Wi-Fi at home.

Me: "Just plug it in—"

Modem: blinks once, explodes, and deletes all devices in a 5 km radius.

[Mocking the physics]

Also, the physics in Tom & Jerry is wild.

They fall from the 23rd floor, bounce on a frying pan, and get up like:

"Aight. Round 2."

Meanwhile I twist my ankle stepping on one LEGO... and suddenly I'm on bed rest like I've been through war.

[Punchline with emotional twist]

And no matter what... Tom never gives up.

Which means — Tom is not a cat.

Tom... is every Indian engineering student during exams.

[Imitating Tom holding a book upside down]

"I don't get anything... but I will fail with honor!"

[Closing bit: bringing it full circle]

But you know what I learned from Tom & Jerry?

If someone's trying to bring you down every day... be like Jerry:

Stay small, stay smart... and slap them with a frying pan when they least expect it!

Because revenge is best served cheesy.

[Mic drop hand gesture, exit dancing like Jerry.]
